UNIVERSEH

European Space University for Earth and Humanity

UNIVERSEH is an alliance of five young and mature universities from five European countries. It was established in November 2020 to develop a new way of collaboration in the field of Space, within the new “European Universities” initiative promoted by the European Commission.

We wish to create new higher education interactive experiences for the university community, teachers and students, and for the benefit of society as a whole. Such initiatives will enable broadminded, informed and conscientious European citizens to capture and create new knowledge and become smart actors of European innovation, valorisation and societal dissemination within the Space sector, from science, engineering, liberal arts to culture.

The UNIVERSEH partners are committed to secure new approaches for Teaching & Learning in an evolving world where knowledge and its transmission have never been. Student-centered learning, peer-to-peer and collaborative teaching designs will be the cornerstone of UNIVERSEH’s educational endeavour. It comprises in-person, distance and blended learning within UNIVERSEH’s collaborative campus, including students’, teachers’ and researchers’ thematic and cultural European mobility. Innovative pedagogical approaches, interdisciplinary and cross-sectoral curricula are key components of our educational approach.

UNIVERSEH relies on a wide range of expertise and already acquired extensive contacts with the space industry and European Space Institutes to rapidly adapt and implement the most relevant Teaching & Learning environment to cover European needs in the area of Space.
Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf

Heinrich Heine University Düsseldorf is one of the younger higher education institutions in the state of North Rhine-Westphalia – founded in 1965. Since 1988 our university has carried the name of one of the city’s finest sons. HHU regards itself as Citizens’ University actively seeking the exchange between science and society as an interdisciplinary-focussed, networked and comprehensive university. To this end, its members offer numerous public events, establish discussion forums, promote civic involvement and involve citizens as well as representatives from business, politics and culture in research and teaching.

Today around 36,000 students study at a modern campus under conditions ideally suited to academic life. As a campus university where everything is close together, all buildings including the University Hospital and the specialised libraries are easily reachable. Our university departments enjoy an excellent reputation due to an exceptionally high number of collaborative research centres.
AGH University of Science and Technology Krakow

The AGH University of Science and Technology in Krakow is a modern state university which develops partner collaboration with colleges and universities in Poland, Europe, and all over the world; it is one of the oldest (established in 1913) and best Polish technical universities. Exact sciences are strongly represented and they constitute the basis for the development of a wide spectrum of applied sciences at a gradually increasing role of social sciences and humanities. The mission of our university is up-to-date education of engineers who specialise in many branches of technology. AGH UST supports the space industry by means of a number of projects carried out both by staff and students (AGH UST Space Systems). The AGH University of Science and Technology conducts scientific research at a high, world level in different fields and disciplines of science, which are the basis for a high level of education and the development of university staff.

AGH UST educates 25,000 students at 16 faculties. The education offer comprises nearly 70 fields of study including first-cycle and second-cycle degree programmes fully conducted in English as well as the AGH UST International Courses. The university also offers education in the AGH UST Doctoral School in 16 scientific disciplines, as well as nearly 90 postgraduate courses. The AGH UST campus is the largest in Poland and it is located in the centre of the most beautiful Polish city – Krakow. Modern teaching and research facilities with fully equipped laboratories equipped with unique apparatus, numerous improvements for people with disabilities – these are only some of its many assets. The student campus has its own sports fields, tennis courts and swimming pool. AGH UST is a special place with a unique atmosphere; a place of ideas, successes and friendships for life. It is the university of the future.
Lulea University of Technology (LTU)

At Scandinavia’s northernmost technical University, you study in a unique place in an international environment. The University is characterized by an environment where students and teachers work together, in a relaxed but stimulating atmosphere, and through a dynamic interaction of researchers working in different disciplines. The University has a well-established network of contacts from around the world that you can benefit from directly.

We have a strong international presence in all three core fields: education, research and innovation. Each year, we welcome about 400 exchange students to LTU. We have four campuses, Luleå (biggest campus), Kiruna, Piteå and Skellefteå.

Flexibility is the key word at LTU. Exchange students can focus on courses in their own academic fields and/or combine courses from different departments as long as they meet the prerequisites. To enable students to fulfil their studies in the best possible way, we hold more than 200 courses in English.

If you are interested in sports and outdoor activities, LTU is definitely the right choice. The nature is right next to the University area and you can experience the changing seasons that offer everything from snow in the winter to midnight sun in the summer.

There are also many student associations that can give you experiences and friends for life. Whether you would like to join a choir, build a robot go to festivals or just spend time hanging out with friends – the possibilities are endless.

STARTING YOUR MISSION
Everything that needs to be done before the stay
The academic calendar of the university can be found here.

Enrolment at HHU is valid for one semester. The semester fee (Sozialbeitrag) is a compulsory charge, which must be paid by all students at the beginning of each semester. Most of it goes towards the NRW Travel Pass. The Düsseldorf Student Services (Studierendenwerk) use part of it for the halls of residence, canteens, and nursery schools. A further part of the semester fee goes towards the Students’ Union. The amount changes slightly every year, but usually the charge is between 310 -330€.

Further information can be found here.
Accommodation

In Düsseldorf there are several options for students to find accommodation. Typically, students either rent a flat or room on the private market or they live in student housing. Information on accommodation can be found here.

Apartments on the private market are generally more expensive than halls of residence. Most landlords additionally demand a security deposit of up to three months’ rent, which is returned to you at the end of your tenancy agreement if there is no damage to the apartment.

Shared flats (known in German as “WG”) are a typical form of student cohabitation in Germany. You rent an apartment together with someone else, in which each of you has his/her own room. The kitchen, the common area and the bathroom are shared.

Moving into a WG is generally cheaper than renting a flat on your own. The best way to find a shared apartment is via large portals online.

Student residence halls are located near HHU as well as directly on campus. The minimum rental period of student housing is one entire academic semester and extends automatically, if not canceled on time. Subletting student housing is not allowed. After successful enrollment at HHU, registered student who are interested can receive further information through the International Office.

For a shorter stay of a couple of weeks, subletting a room in a WG or an apartment is a more practical option.

Accommodation

In Toulouse there are several options for students to find accommodation. Typically, students either rent a flat or room on the private market or they live in student housing.

Rents in the private market are often high and owners generally ask for guarantees, which is not always easy to provide, especially when you come from abroad.

All information on accommodation can be found here.

1. La Carte des colocs
2. L’Auberge – l’agence de colocation

Housing aids
In order to guarantee housing access to all, an aid system has been put in place by the French government. Depending on the type of housing, your income, and the makeup of your household, you may be eligible for financial aid designed to lower the price of your rent.

Housing aid is managed by the Family Allowance Offices (Caisse d'Allocations Familiales (CAF)).

Insurance
Health
Inside the EU, the health insurance from your home EU country is generally valid in all other EU countries. However, please make sure to contact your health insurer to verify that and get the free European Health Insurance Card (EHIC).

In France, social security is free and allows you to benefit from partial or total reimbursement of medical costs. In general, it allows you to receive reimbursement of up to 70%.

In addition, you can also subscribe to a private health insurance, called “mutuelle”. This is a paid service; it is not compulsory but highly recommended if you wish to be reimbursed for all of your medical expenses (the 30% missing from Social Security).
Third-party Liability (responsabilité civile)
This covers the renter for damage for which he or she may personally be held liable and for all damage to others for which he or she may be held liable (e.g.: flooding the neighbour’s flat). Guaranteed protection and legal assistance are included in «Civil liability».

Comprehensive home insurance (multirisque habitation)
This concerns damage to the renter’s property. The insurance is based on capital, meaning a quantified assessment of the insured party’s assets. This states the maximum amount that you are entitled to in the event of disaster.

City Registration

In Germany, everyone has to register with the authorities. That means that you must inform the Residents’ Registration Office (Einwohnermeldeamt) of your German address within one week of entering the country. This also applies for international students who only wish to study for one semester at HHU.

Each time you move – even within Düsseldorf – you must register your change of address not later than a week after the move.

You can register/re-register at the Residents’ Registration Office (Einwohnermeldeamt) or the municipal authorities (Bürgerbüro) of your suburb of Düsseldorf. If you live outside Düsseldorf, please go to the Residents’ Registration Office in that town or city.
Find your way around campus

HHU is a campus university, which has the advantage that all faculties, central facilities, canteen and libraries are located directly on campus.

All buildings on campus have a two-part number (e.g. 24.41 for the University and State Library), which can be found at the top of each building section. The first part of the number refers to the area on campus, the second to the section of the respective building.

All rooms also have a two-part number (e.g. 00.41). The first number indicates the floor on which the room is located. The number 00 shows that the floor is on a level with the road which runs through the campus from north to south. U1 means that the room is on a floor below that, 01 means the floor above etc. The second number is the room number.

You can use the free app “myHHU” to navigate to a certain building.

Campus Services

As the first and central point of contact, HHU Student Services (Studierendenservice) offer the following services:

- Basic advice for students on all study-related topics, such as enrolment and changing programme, leave of absence and de-registration
- Copies of enrolment, re-registration certificates, receipt and issue of application forms of the Student and Examination Administration Department (e.g. examination withdrawals), Transcripts of Records, changes to name and address

HHU Student Services (Studierendenservice) also provide support through general study advice, coaching, psychological help for individuals and groups, advice on Masters Programmes, courses, groups and workshops.
